

Don't Dry Out! Top Tips for Long-Lasting Matte Lips Without the Crack

Are you tired of dry and cracked lips every time you apply your liquid matte lipstick? Well, fret no more. Below is a guide to help you say goodbye to cracked pouts and hello to a flawless and long-lasting lip look.

When you're ready to rock a bold lip for work or for a party, nothing beats a classic matte lipstick. Matte lipsticks from pale pastels to rich plum offer a stunning look, however, they can also show off cracks and dry patches and cling to every contour. All lipsticks include some form of oil or wax. However, matte lipsticks offer a higher form of pigmentation which really pops. As a result, this also creates a uniform look on the lips that can showcase every small flaw.

If you want crack free lips with a smooth and even finish, then here are some tips to keep in mind.

- Choosing the right matte lipstick

Finding the best matte lipstick involves more than just choosing the best shade. You need to look for a high-quality formula that is smooth, velvety, and contains extra moisturizing ingredients to combat dryness. This can offer you a creamy formula that lasts all day long.

- Prepping your lips

Always prep your lips first before you put on your lipstick. It's important to always exfoliate your skin to remove dry skin cells to give yourself a smooth canvas to work on. Once this is done, apply a nourishing lip balm and give it time to set in before you apply your nude lipstick.

- Laying for a smooth finish

The key to even crack-free lips is layering. First start by using your lip liner as a primer to line your lips and fill them. You can then apply your lipstick over the top of your liner. This will make sure that your matte lipstick stays between the lines and doesn't transfer or smudge.

- Prevent dryness

Prevention is the best cure for lip dryness. Make sure to have a proper lip care routine in place from using daily moisturizers to overnight lip masks to add more hydration and target the source of dry and cracked lips. Look for products that give your lips a plump, fuller-looking base so that you can easily apply your nude lipstick shades.

In Summary

Lastly, keep in mind to dust a bit of translucent setting powder to keep your matte lipstick in place. If your color starts to fade, then dot your product gently over your lips and blend it naturally into place. Make sure to always use the right lipstick that is rich, smooth, creamy, safe for your skin, and highly pigmented for your lips.
